NOTE FOR: The Acting Director

STAT

FROM: Dave Gries

SUBJECT: Proposed DDI Breakfasts for New Members of House
Foreign Affairs and House Armed Services Committees

The attached note from  to me suggests that you host these new members. I suspect you are too busy and would prefer either not to hold a breakfast or to have someone else host.

Under these circumstances, I recommend that Dick Kerr host one EDR breakfast for new HFAC members and one for new HASC members. He will bring in analysts to brief on three or four main subjects. We will take the opportunity to have a security officer discuss briefly the handling of our material in Congress, and I will note the services my Office can offer them. Kerr agrees with the above. I believe it is appropriate for a Deputy Director to meet with new House members of committees which have no oversight role. On the Senate side I believe the members expect to meet you; therefore, we will continue with one-on-one Senate breakfasts.

SUBJECT: House Breakfasts

We now have the preliminary House Committee assignments. The Republicans provided their entire Committee lists--subject to approval on 20 January when the House reconvenes. The Democrats have provided only the names of Members who have changed assignment or are newly assigned freshmen.

I recommend that we now move forward on inviting the new assignees to Foreign Affairs and Armed Services to Headquarters as soon as possible for breakfasts with the ADCI. We should plan a short substantive program and include at least one very brief (5 minute) presentation on security issues. If you and the ADCI concur, I will contact Jack Brady and Steve Berry of HFAC and Kim Wincup of HAS in order to set them up. I recommend we include Brady, Berry, and Wincup at the appropriate breakfast.

When we can confirm the new Members of HPSCI--expected during the week of 20 January--we should invite them out individually or as twosomes.

Attached are the list of the new HFAC and HAS Members and the bio information we have on them.
